This was part of a two day workshop conducted in the department last week.

A special feature of the class was the use of a dynamometer to determine horse power rating of tractors. In an effort to make the workshop practical, five local farm tractors were used to give the workshop participants an opportunity to put the classroom theory into use.

Lt. James Gets 5 Medals For Actions in Vietnam

Charles James III
. . . in Vietnam

(Following article was published in a Tallahasse, Florida newspaper.)

A Tallahassee man has won five medals for courage in Vietnam in the last five months.

Awarded to Lt. Charles F. James III, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. James Jr., since February were the Bronze Star Medal (First Oak Leaf Cluster) Air Medal, Bronze Star Medal with "V" device, Purple Heart and Combat Infantryman's Badge.

Miss Copland Johnson of Wynesboro is visiting Miss Mary R. Black and hr mother for a few days.

Mrs. W. R. Brightwell spent the week end visiting her mother and father who are both patients of Johnson-Willis Hospital in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wood and family of Petersburg visited her mother, Mrs. Hal F. Clark last week end.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gradon Maxwell were S Sgt. and Mrs. Gradon Maxwell, Jr. and daughter, of Wichita Falls, Texas; Rev. Wilber Maxwell of York, S. C., Mr. H. L. Maxwell of Berryville, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ramsey and Mrs. J. F. Bowers of Lynchburg; Mr. Cambell Ramsey and sons of Charlotte, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Coley Ramsey and Miss Bessie Lee.

Mrs. Clarence Ramsey is visiting her daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Jamerson of Raleigh, N. C.

James, a 1967 Florida State University graduate, is attached to the 1st Air Cavalry Division. His mother explained that these men travel by helicopter but fight on the ground without benefit of horses, as in the old cavalry days.

James got the Bronze Star in February while platoon leader on patrol in the Tinh Bien Hoa province. The award said, in part:

"First Lieutenant James distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous action . . . while serving as a platoon leader with Company B, 1st Battalion (Airmobile), 12th cavalry during a search and clear mission.

"When his unit became heavily engaged with a large enemy force and several casualities were sustained, (James) exposed himself to the intense hostile fire as he helped move injured personnel to covered positions.

"James' display of personal bravery and devotion to duty is in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflects great credit upon himself, his unit and the United States Army."

The oak leaf cluster was added to James' Bronze Star as a result of quick action on his part when another platoon leader was mortally wounded and his medical aidman almost killed in an enemy ambush.

With "virtually no concealment" and "disregarding his own safety" James and his men moved in and routed the enemy, according to the award.

James got the Purple Heart in March for wounds received in action in February. The Air Medal came for more than 25 aerial missions over enemy territory, and the infantryman's badge for participation in actual combat.

James, 25, unmarried and called "Fleet" by close acquaintances, now heads a rifle platoon outside Saigon. He and his eight men act as advisers to the South Vietnamese government.

The lieutenant, an honor ROTC graduate at FSU, is expected to come home in December when his year of duty will end.

(He is the grandson of Mrs. Charles F. James, of Epes, Alabama, former resident of Appomattox, and the late Dr. James, who will be remembered here as a long time pharmacist and former Mayor.)
